CHIEF INFORMATION OFFICER SUMMIT

October 31, 2010 9:00AM - 4:00PM

The CIO Summit is an annual must-attend event for technology leaders and other interested college administrators who want to explore key issues, discuss useful strategies, and share solutions pertaining to community college information technologies. The summit's experienced facilitators lead discussions concerning critical issues facing today's technology leaders: the new mission critical application—learning management systems; the budget crisis—doing more with less; and cloud computing—cirrus or cumulus. We invite you to join your colleagues at this annual event designed to build and sustain a strong network of community college CIOs committed to improving their existing information technology systems while visioning the most effective use of tomorrow's technologies.
