THE PROGRAM

Educators, industry leaders, and others will gather to discuss increasing student access into and success in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) majors and careers. The 2010 STEMtech will also help educators explore the strategic use of information technology to better serve their students, campuses, and communities.

Over 400 sessions will cover everything from recruiting and retaining students for STEM-related programs to using information technology to improve organizational and student learning.

Tracks for this ground-breaking conference include Health and Science; Energy, Environment, and Sustainability; Mathematics, Engineering, and Architecture; Manufacturing, Industry, and Agriculture; Technology, Multimedia, and Telecommunication; Technology Systems and Applications; and E-Learning Resources.

A preliminary list of presentation titles is available at www.league.org/stemtech/sessions.

STEMTECH SUMMITS

STEM*tech* Summits are fee-based, full-day workshops that deliver a body of practical knowledge and applications by providing in-depth exposure to specific topics within each of the conference tracks. Summit facilitators help participants learn new concepts, draw on participants' expertise and prior knowledge, and have participants apply what they have learned. Summit participants are awarded a certificate of completion. Full workshop descriptions are available at www.league.org/stemtech/summits. Enrollment is limited, so register early!

Sunday, 9:00 AM - 4:00 PM $150 each

- Chief Information Officers Summit
- Student Success in a Biotechnology S-STEM Program
- Enhancing Sustainability Education Through Multidisciplinary Competition-Based Learning
- Assistive Technology: Blending Accessibility With Availability to Promote Universal Design
- Leaning the Southwest Center for Microsystems Education Workshops
- Preparing Students for Tomorrow: STEM Outreach and Career Education
- Professional Development and STEM Success for At-Risk Students

TRACK KEYNOTE PRESENTATIONS

(no additional cost)

Track Keynote Presentations are hand selected based on their overarching vision or strong alignment with the conference's seven tracks. There is one Track Keynote Session per conference track. No other sessions in the same track are scheduled against Track Keynote Sessions. Full session descriptions are available at www.league.org/stemtech/trackkeynotes.
